Italy's well-known Pirelli tyre maker on 23 March 2015 saw a quarter of its shares sold to China's state-owned National Chemical Corp (ChemChina) on 23 March 2015, in a deal which provides for the Chinese company to secure a controlling stake later. ChemChina subsidiary China National Tire &

Rubber (CNRC) will take over the 26.2 per cent of Pirelli owned by Camfin, a holding company and current leading shareholder, for 15 euros (16.29 dollars) per share, ChemChina said. EPA/WU HONG
