

The advertisement features a dark asphalt background with a yellow dashed line curving around the bottom. At the top, the Monroe logo is displayed in large, bold, yellow letters. Below the logo, on the left, is a circular inset showing a man's head and shoulders next to a glowing yellow lightbulb. To the right of this is the text 'DID YOU KNOW ?' in bold yellow. Further down, on the left, is a yellow car with a circular inset showing a worn tire tread. To the right of the car is the text 'INCREASED TYRE WEAR' in bold yellow, followed by a paragraph in white: 'A worn out shock absorber increases tyre wear, therefore reducing the vehicle's contact surface and increasing the risk of an accident.' Below this, on the left, is the text 'CONTROL YOUR SHOCKS AT A MONROE® EXPERT' in bold yellow. On the right is a cartoon illustration of a Monroe expert wearing a black cap and a yellow apron over a black shirt. At the bottom, a solid yellow banner contains the text 'FIND YOUR NEAREST DEALER ON' in black, followed by 'www.MONROE.com' in bold black.
